Richard Hill's Genetic Genealogy Links

I created my DNA Testing Adviser website in 2008 and have been adding to it ever since. I also use my DNA Testing Update blog and my Facebook Page to share DNA news, DNA success stories, and relevant resources I find online.

For some time, I have been compiling the best of the resource links into a personal list. Then, when people reach out to me with DNA questions, I can answer their questions and easily refer them to an appropriate place for more information.

My list is not for sale. But I am happy to give it away. Furthermore, this PDF file is not copy-protected. You are welcome to share it with family and friends.

A tiny percentage of these links are affiliate links. That means I can earn a small fee from the seller if you purchase something. You don't pay any extra and this income helps me pursue my passion of educating people about DNA testing.

Thank you.

Richard Hill

Updated June 2020

NOTE: If you would like to suggest additional links for me to include in a future update, please send them to me using this Contact form.

You can use that same form to contact me about speaking to your genealogy group, library, or other information. I give presentations on DNA testing both in person and online. See the Speaking page of my website for more information.
